What is it Used For Glogster is a very fun website you can link it to your facebook or twitter account. Glogster in many ways is actually quite similar to a social network like msn or facebook. On the site you can chat, send and receive emails, get friends, make a profile, etc.. Many people, however, are using glogster as an alternative form of blogging. They are making these cute and fun poster as their blogs or rather glogs. It is really clever and seems like a much more creative and fun form of blogging.
